Unusual children's books.Q: TikZ: Arrow with different head and tail lengths I'm working on a diagram and I want to add an arrow with different head and tail length and thickness. I have not yet found a way of doing this. Here is what I have so far: \documentclass{standalone} \usepackage{tikz} \usepackage{etoolbox} ewcommand\myarrow[2][]{\arrow{#1}[#2]} \begin{document} \begin{tikzpicture} ode [draw] (a) at (0, 0) {A}; ode [draw, right of=a] (b) {B}; \draw[myarrow] (a) -- (b); \end{tikzpicture} \end{document} A: In order to get different thicknesses you can define the arrow using options of \draw. For example: ewcommand\myarrow[2][]{\arrow{#1}[#2, out=120, in=60]} \draw[myarrow] (a 82157476af
